The application for admission to the School of Graduate Studies at UNT should be submitted, with official transcripts, at least two months prior to the semester of enrollment. Individual departments may require additional information such as letters of recommendation, statement of professional goals, etc. Contact your major department to determine if additional materials are needed. All students are encouraged to apply as early as possible. If application materials are received after the deadline, the student will be subject to late registration and the late registration fee. Late applications may experience delays in processing. Only written notice from the dean of the School of Graduate Studies constitutes approval of admission, not correspondence with department chairs or with individual faculty members.

Immunization is an integral part of your health care. You should make sure that your immunizations for measles, tetanus and poliomyelitis are current. Please contact your physician for more information.

It is the policy of the University of North Texas not to discriminate on the basis of race, color, religion, sex, age, national origin, disability (where reasonable accommodations can be made), disabled veteran status or veteran of the Vietnam era status in its educational programs, activities, admissions or employment policies. In addition to complying with federal and state equal opportunity laws and regulations, the university through its diversity policy declares harassment based on individual differences (including sexual orientation) inconsistent with its mission and educational goals.
